

The portrayal of a country between Huns and health resorts, Budapest and Lake Balaton, red pepper and Puszta, a country which is closely linked to Germany in terms of geography, economy and culture but which, nevertheless, still gives rise to romantic transfigurations. In a language sparkling with humorous remarks, Thomas Bauer has written an account of a voyage that portrays Hungary in all its facets. In a manner both charming and brilliant, the author successfully manages to inform the reader – almost just in passing – about Hungary's one-thousand-year-old history.

→ A charming homage to the popular tourist country, its people and its characteristic features, written by a connoisseur of Hungary

© Anja F. Wagner

Thomas Bauer was born in Stuttgart in 1976, studied administration in Constance, worked for Greenpeace in Paris and as a journalist in Sydney. Meanwhile he works for the Goethe Institute in Munich. He has published ten books and more than fifty articles in newspapers and journals, beside several anthologies (www.literaturnest.de).

Thomas Bauer

WHERE THE PUSZTA TOUCHES THE SKY

In a roundabout way through Hungary

Approx. 224 pages, black and white photos

12.8 x 21.0 cm

Hard cover with dust jacket

ISBN 978-3-7766-2512-7

»They travel to familiar places. They follow uncommon tracks. Very close they tell about fascinating encounters.«

Also look out for our backlist-titles!

USPs:

- Much more than an ordinary travel-guide
- Impressions away from the average tourist sites
- Hungary as popular travel destination

Hans-Joachim Löwer:
TRAIN STATION OF DREAMERS
224 pages
ISBN 978-3-7766-2460-1

Dieter Sauter:
IN THE COUNTRY
OF THE HAMAM
224 pages
ISBN 978-3-7766-2481-6

Katharina Tiwald:
THE TOLD CITY
Unknown St. Petersburg
224 pages
ISBN 978-3-7766-2479-3

Maria Wirth:
ABOUT GURUS,
BOLLYWOOD AND
SACRED COWS
224 pages
ISBN 978-3-7766-2480-9

familiar foreign places – fascinating encounters

TRAIN STATION OF DREAMERS: »A powerful report« Welt kompakt

THE TOLD CITY: »Katharina Tiwald's excursions through the city show a St. Petersburg which hardly any tourist can find – distressingly powerful travels between essay, tale, a literary search for clues, a report and written down talks« Die Zeit

»The young Austrian authoress and Slavicist captures the spirit, the atmosphere, the intellectual topography, the past and the present of the city on the Neva in an extensive portrayal written in a fluent style. She is skillful in cutting takes of the past and of the present (...). An invitation to St. Petersburg, beautifully expressed in writing.« Rheinischer Merkur

IN THE COUNTRY OF THE HAMAM: »The former director of the ARD studio in Istanbul takes the reader with stories of success just as well as with gloomy reports right into the middle of the country's everyday life. His portrayals are sober, clear and empathic – without drowning in kitschy cultural clichés.« Deutschlandradio

»After 13 years of experience, right on the spot, Sauter has found the right formula for describing his adoptive country: He portrays its people. (...) Sauter's book is well worthwhile reading and allows fascinating insights into Turkey.« Rheinischer Merkur

ABOUT GURUS, BOLLYWOOD AND SACRED COWS: »More than just a good book to read it is captivating even only by it's subject. You wont be able to put it down! No anylises are necessary cause it will capture the reader by the style it is written. In a briskly and likeable way the authoress describes what ocured her wonderfully and deflating in the varity of different spiritual personalities ...« yoga aktuell