

If you own a dog that adores you, you should also have a cat that ignores you: so goes the wise old saying. Cats are muses, confidantes and comforters. They charm their owners, yet remain fiercely independent and never truly abandon themselves to them. There's no denying they have a mind of their own and plenty of character into the bargain. They are very quick to make their owner's home their own and leave their mark on it. They have an air of elusive mystery about them and there's nothing more fascinating than looking into their enigmatic eyes.

It is often said that there are two types of people: cat-lovers and dog-lovers. For those of you in the first category, this delightful book is filled with enchanting cat photos, complemented by quotes and sayings to make you smile and give you pause for thought. And for the rest, it makes a wonderful gift for cat-loving friends and family.
