

A colourful blend of cultures and religions, glass-clad high-rises and charming palaces, government buildings, trendy districts and cosy neighbourhoods with a village feel – there is no other town in Germany as rich in contrasts. This collection of photographs takes us on a unique voyage of discovery through the metropolis. Here we are offered glimpses of what is usually hidden away. The choice of motifs, the unusual perspective and the original selection of topics make for a completely unexpected and truly fascinating Berlin-experience.

→ Berlin – Fascinating City of Contrasts

Herbert Schlemmer has been working for top ranking photo agencies for many years. Alongside publications in such major magazines as »Der Spiegel«, he has also contributed to many non-fiction and travel books. www.schlemmer-berlinfoto.de.

Werner Radasewsky Borges da Silva, journalist und writer, has been an editor and correspondent for many years, as well as writing numerous books. A native Berliner, he now lives there and in Portugal.

Herbert Schlemmer (Fotos) / Werner Radasewsky Borges da Silva (Text)

ALL THIS IS BERLIN!

Approx. 168 pages, 24,5 x 28,0 cm

Illustrated in colour throughout, including approx. 120 photographs

Hard cover with dust jacket

September 2007

ISBN 978-3-7243-1008-2